

Claims

1. A device for holding a jewelry article during cleaning, comprising:
a selectably opened porous enclosure having an interior;
a grasping member affixed to the interior of the basket; and 5 a handle attached to the basket.
2. The device of claim 1, wherein the selectably opened basket and handle comprises a a spring-handled strainer; and wherein the grasping member comprises a spring clip.
3. A device for holding a jewelry article during cleaning
comprising:
an enclosure means selectively opened to insert a jewelry article;
a grasping means attached inside the enclosure for selectively holding a jewelry 5 article; and a handle means for positioning the enclosure means.
4. A method of cleaning a jewelry article, comprising:
clipping the jewelry article to an interior of a basket;
closing the basket; and positioning the basket via a handle to expose the basket to a cleaning liquid.